

Eric Brand

Marketer • Writer • Speaker

Eric Brand has been a writer/producer of award-winning television shows and movies, essays (numerous outlets such as Washington Post and Times of Israel), and books (Gladstone, a biography, second printing).

He has had senior marketing roles for top financial firms (such as Morgan Stanley), and produced some of the world's largest and most prestigious tech events.

Popular Speaking Topics:

- Why Brand Identity Is the Make or Break
- It's Not Me, It's You: The Secret to Marketing Success
- Confessions of a Wall Street Marketer
- Scary and Inspiring Stories from Running One of the World's Largest Tech Events
- Jews in Film and Television
- Being Orthodox in Hollywood
- "Avatar," "The Matrix," and the World to Come
- Five Cases of Divine Providence in the Course of Jewish History
- Amazing Parallels of Israel Under Rome and Washington

Topics can be tailored to the audience

Eric has spoken to audiences both global and local, on conference stages and in MBA lecture halls, at venues such as Harvard, Content Israel, and television – offering insights and stories audiences remember.

Further info: www.ericbrand.net

Contact: ericbrand@ericbrand.net